

GHOST STORIES

FROM 7-9PM

SPRING GROVE STORYTELLING FESTIVAL
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1ST

STORYTELLING RETURNS!

to the lovely Spring Grove Village Park
after a 16 year hiatus.

Some of the headliners include
Donna Washington, Kevin Kling, Nestor Gomez, Jim May
and Megan Wells

and many of the finest Illinois Storytellers as well.

There will be stories for all ages,
a children's tent and food trucks.

Kevin Kling's MASTER CLASS

Spring Grove Elementary School, 8105 Blivin St, 9AM--11AM

There is no storyteller in America that is held in more esteem than Kevin Kling. We are so fortunate to have booked him. He will be a headliner the weekend of Oct 9th at the 50th National Storytelling celebration in Jonesborough, Tennessee.

But we get him first! If you are serious about storytelling, writing, or just being a more aware and compassionate human being don't miss this opportunity!

There will be stories staged under big tents throughout the afternoon (noon-6pm) and Ghost Stories, 7pm-9pm. The ghost tales begin the evening "not too scary" but get scarier as the night progresses and little ones are asleep.

The storytelling will emphasize humor and fun but also the joy and depth that families and individuals experience hearing a good story in the company of friends and loved ones.

There will be a youth event, an open mic and an elders stage.

"Stories of Remembrance" will be told at the park's Holocaust Memorial near the site where Holocaust Survivor Lisa Derman died at the storytelling festival in 2002 while telling her story of escape from Poland during WWII.

For more info: www.springgrovestorytelling.org TICKETS AT EVENTBRITE or contact me, Jim May, 815-382-5264 jimmaystories@gmail.com.